Sunday June 10 (4.00 pm)
~ Tuesday June 12 (12.30 pm)

Both Richard Rohr and Paula D'Arcy believe that we can bring clarity to our personal journey and to our participation in communities of faith by an understanding and distinguishing of the tasks of the two halves of life. Much of institutional religion is concerned with the tasks of the first half of life. The need for adults is to move on to the tasks of the second half of life, which are much closer to the concerns of Jesus, Buddha and the mystics of all religions. Prepare for both stages to affirm and challenge you, and also recognize the immense implications for raising children and young people. Andrew will be your facilitator and host for discussion, elaboration of the theme, and supportive contemplative practice.

Program Fee: $160 (inquire about bursaries)
